Bad Blood!

The Nordic Princess mounts

The time has come to put to rest any notion the female wrestling is a pussycat sport!

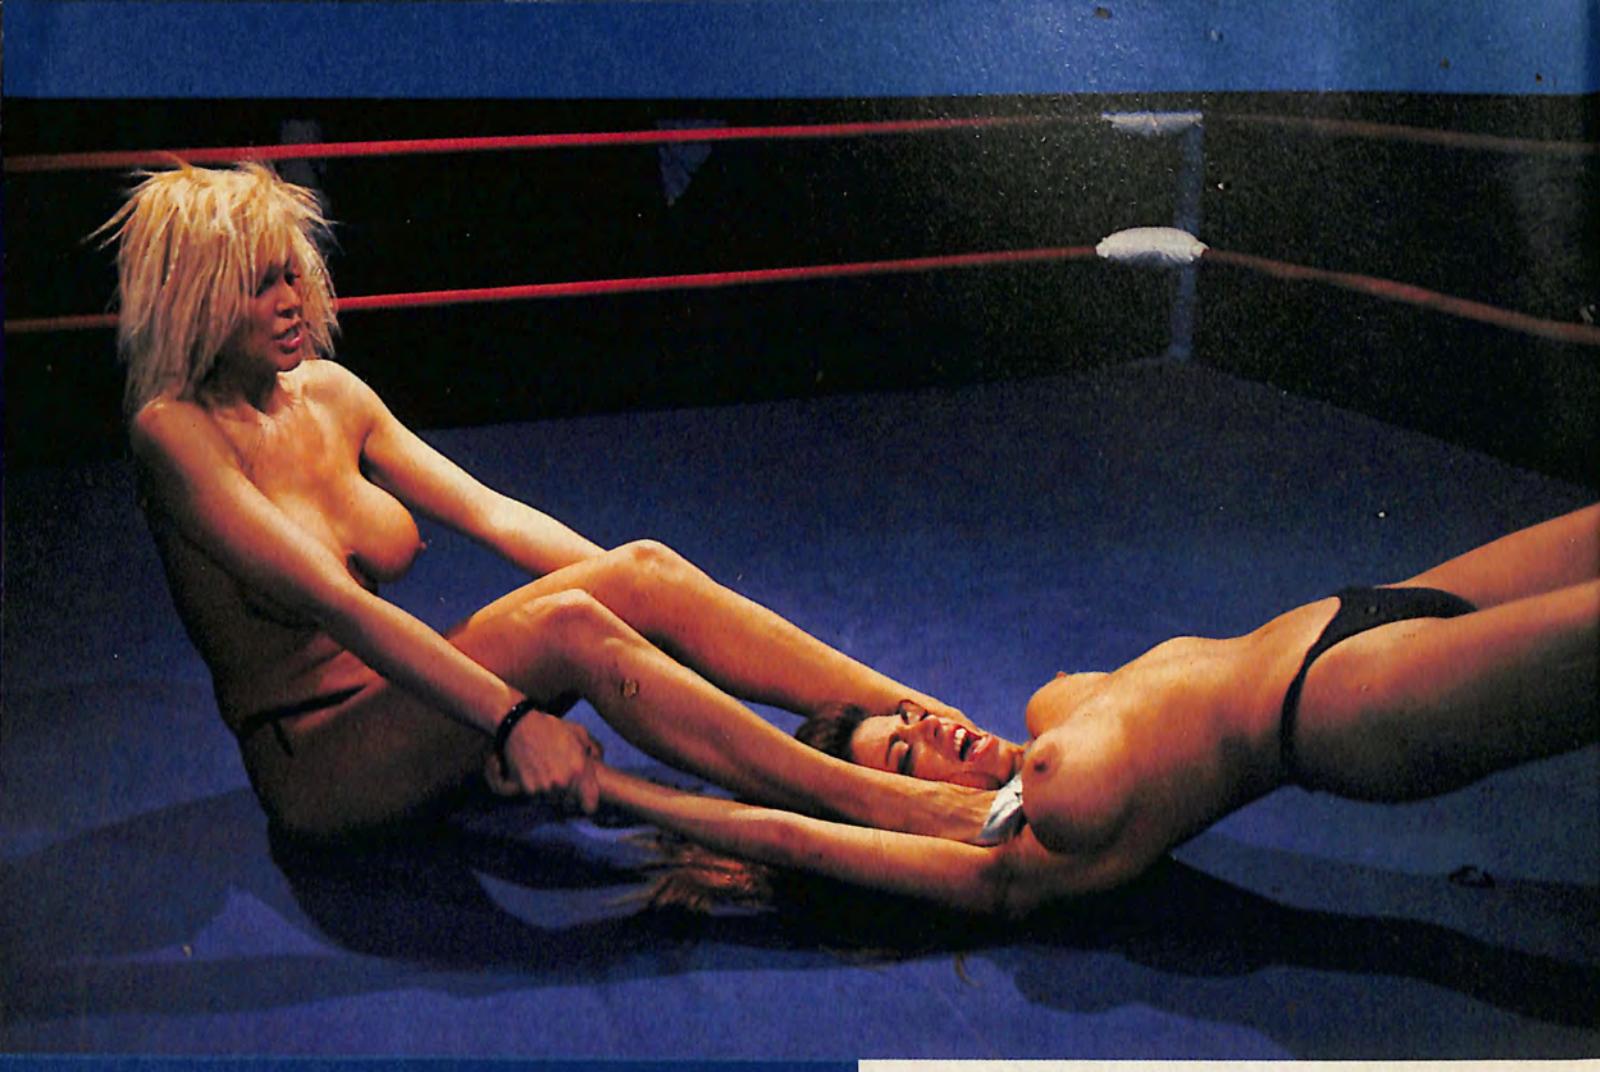

If male wrestling fans are turned on by the sight of 300 pound Goliaths smashing into one another, then they will be even more thrilled by the sight of the best-built girls in America outfitted in tiny, skin-tight bikinis taking over where the boys leave off.

"Ring Cats" is a term used by female wrestling fans to describe the raw sexuality and power of their heroes. It conjures up the idea of long sharp claws, cunning, agility & swiftness of foot. There's just something about the name the fits. The girls who perform for audiences all over the country are sleek, finely-tuned instruments of destruction, and they spare nothing in their matches.

Some disbelievers still find it hard to comprehend that these sweet-looking innocent girls can exhibit such wild and brutal personalities once inside a 16' by 16' ring. The fact is, these girls love to be physical!

Do the girls go too far? Only you can be the judge of that. Let's just say they get down to the bare essentials! And these girls are pumped. With names like Spice, Brandy, Ginger and Belinda, who can resist their charms?

No Mercy!

"Give it up!", Shelley screams as Sweet Cakes protracted body arches toward defeat!

The enormous interest in Female Wrestling is due in part to the "gutsy broads" of the past and the new-look "Classy Babes" of the 90s. Some call the the Playgirls of Wrestling, and with good reason. Many of the girls are part-time models, actresses, singers and dancers. Many have appeared on the covers of the top selling magazines in America, including Pent-house.

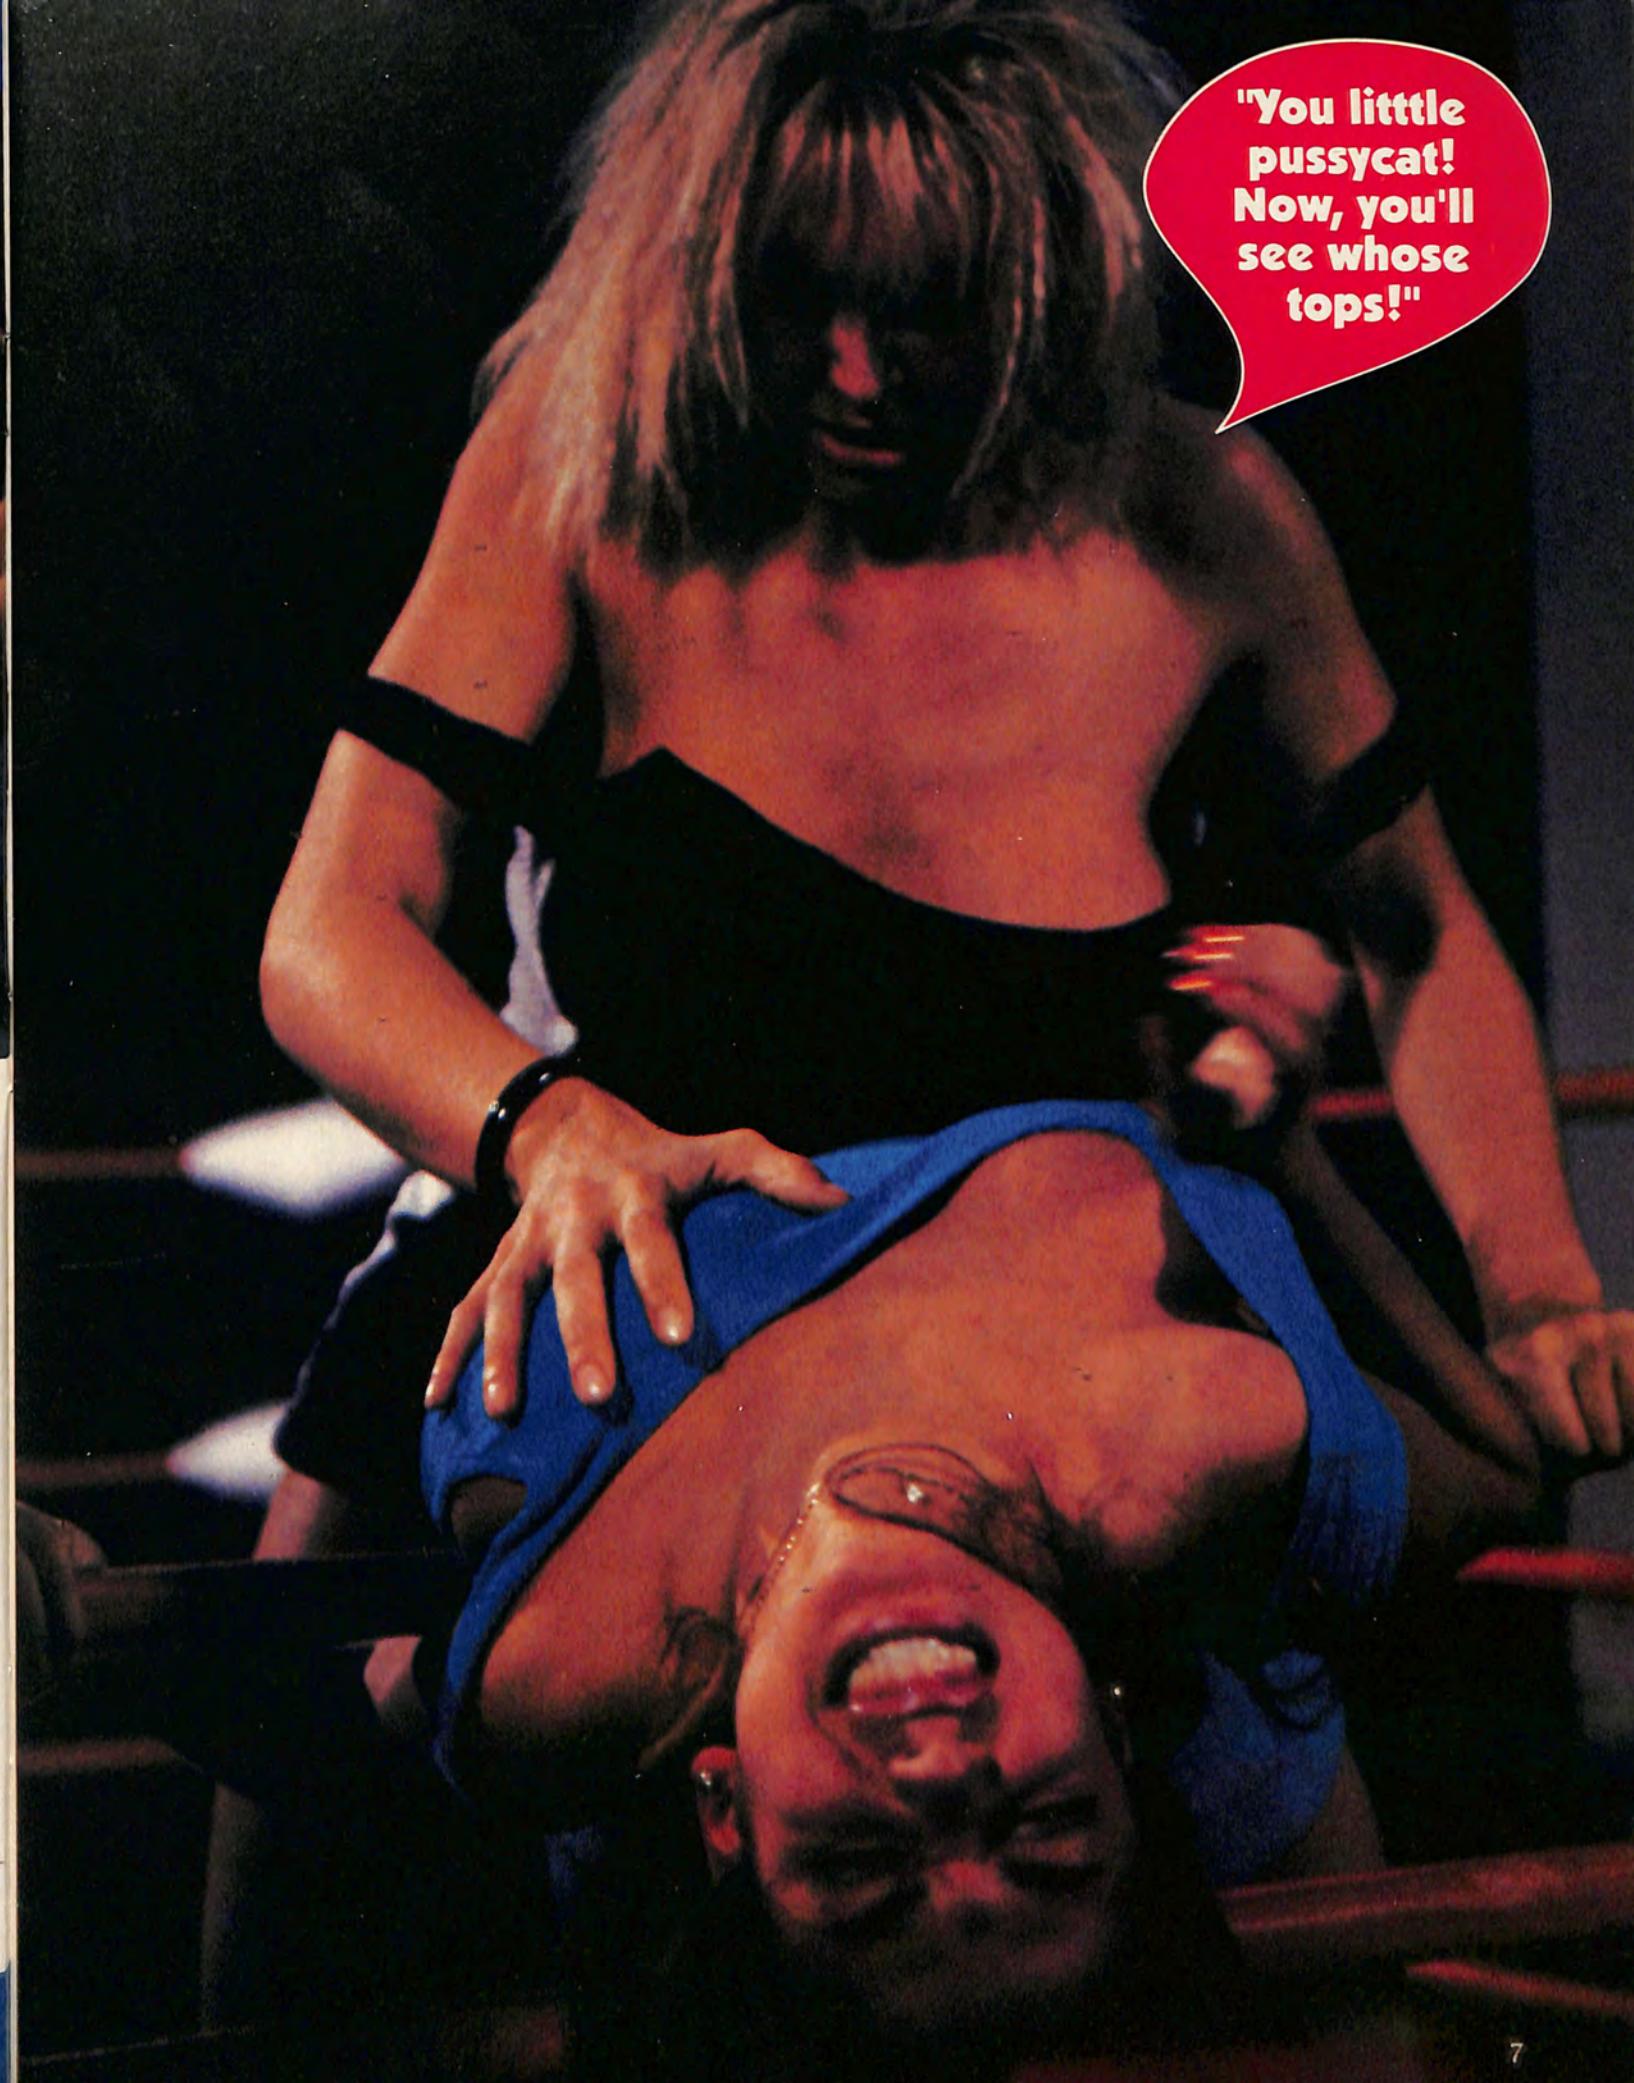

The girls often create their own characters. That is they have developed a "ring personality" that in many ways is definitely different then their real life selves. After all, except for the International Olympic Games, all sports today are entertainment-oriented. That doesn't mean that athletes are simply faking the stuff they do.

on the contrary. It just means that they try and play to an audience and "hipe".

The Playgirls of Wrestling must be in top condition and must spend every free moment studying, training and practicing in order to stay in the sport. Minor injuries are expected and taken for granted, but the fear of every professional athlete is a major injury that will prevent them from ever again participating in the sport they love best.

Hulkamania™ has spread throughout the country. And the "Hulk" has captured the imagination of wrestling fans everywhere. Female wrestling stars are meeting this challenge for the spotlight by competing in dual (M/F) sex matches. This is considered by many knowledgeable sports enthusiasts as the direction the sport will eventually take.

But too, will there be public acceptance of these dual sex matches, or will they be considered as phony as the Billy Jean King/Bobby Riggs fiasco in Houston. No one is certain. But you can bet that there are those in the entertainment business who would like to promote a match between the Hulk and a top lady wrestler.

You can imagine the hipe, and the marketing potential of such a contest. . . The "Amazon Queen" versus the greatest male wrestler of all time. Fans would eat it up. Toy manufacturers, poster makers and others would open up a whole new market area. Comic book publishers would go crazy.

And just who might be "man enough" to take on the Queen of the Amazon women in a no holds barred contest? Perhaps the HULK, and only the HULK could do it. But would even the HULK be willing to put his belt on the table to go up against a woman? After all, what would his strategy be?

Sweet Cakes Breaks out!

Enough!
The Nordic Princess's

Sweet Cakes helpless!

Sweet Cakes gets in a Back in the Saddle Again!

We know the HULK considers women to be held in the highest esteem. What kind of psychological head trip would he go through by agreeing to a match of this kind? If, like so many other wrestlers, would the HULK try to ridicule his opponent, would he be fall into a trap from which he could never recover? After all, his reputation as a man's man would be on the line.

And just how can a 300 pound, well-conditioned male athlete take on a 120 pound girl who looks like the girl next door? Just what kind of holds would he use? What kind of holds would she use? Could a smaller, trimmer opponent make the HULK look impotent? Less than manly? Who can tell. there's only one sure-fire way of finding out though isn't there. Let the WF, who manage the HULK put up the gate for a real match, and let the fans decide. How can the HULK sleep at night knowing some-where out there there's a sweet young, gorgeous, voluptuously - built female wrestler dying to get into the ring with him and get physical? Think about it HULK, it's everyman's dream come true!

So, the "Dream Match" of the 90s might well be a "no holds barred" contest of strength and skill versus quickness and cunning. A real test of man against woman. the incentive, pride and money. Lots of money. the purse would be enormous. TV rights, film rights, book rights, etc., as well as endorsements can stagger the imagination. If the movie "Batman" grossed over 4 billion dollars, what could this kind of event garner?

In the meantime, wrestling fans will just have to bide their time. There are of course dual sex matches being conducted right now, of course. But a "big name" male wrestling star has not been willing to get in the ring with one of these cats.

The "Ring Cats" of the future will be even more daring and adventurous. On the prowl for anyone, male or female, who is willing to get in the ring with them. It's a glamorous sport, but it's a tough sport where only the fittest survive.

Give it up!

STAR WARS

Nowhere in the universe have two force-fields come together like the clash of gorgeous amazon women held of the planet Earth last year! Heavenly bodies bent on the destruction of the known world as we know it. The cosmos will never be the same again! Warp Factors? Forget it! These girls blew their engines! And when it was over, an astonished crew breathed a sigh of relief.

"Unlike anything you've ever seen before . . . out of this world . . . beyond human imagination!" Those are actual statements recorded after the conflict by an astonished newscaster. "Nothing in sports compares to the sight of two extremely lovely, well-built young women exerting themselves to become the known as "Mistress of the Universe."

They hit the mat flying, and the action never let up for a moment. Each girl was anxious to go at the other, to get to the other. Their long, lean, glistening gams poised for action. Their young, full breasts stood up proud. Their eyes were filled with mystery and danger, like a caged tigress. To enter their world you must learn to accept new sights and wonders never before seen on the planet Earth by man or woman.

The Rematch of the Century! Charazad succumbs to an all-out assault from the always dangerous Nordic Princess.

The coliseum was filled to capacity with characters right out of Star Trek . . . the movie. Orange-haired, spik-ed, bald and purple-haired fans from all over the universe took every available seat. Some of these on-lookers seemed to float a bit above their seats. There were tall, short, fat, skinny things from all over the place. It was worth the price of admission just to see the different kinds of life forms. Female wrestling fans come from every corner of the universe. Even parts as yet uncharted by "known" life forms.

Rock & Roll!

The noise in the coliseum was overwhelming. Strange sounds emmited from all around me. Real wrestling fans love to yell and show their favorites...even though some of their stars don't even understand their language.

"Charazad," the faithful, versus the "Nordic Princess" was billed as the top sporting event of all time.

Shelley's overwhelming power & virtuosity destroys Sweet Cakes!

Charazad, the mysterious young amazon, has been wrestling for the Federation for more than 6 years. Her background is unknown. Many believe she is the daughter of the ruler of a distant planet located in the 9th sector. She carries herself like a queen, and her temperament is fiery. The sensuousness of her supple young body has excited the imagination of more than any other female wrestler in modern history. Her dark, good looks and green eyes are devastating, and she moves in the ring with a grace that's unparalleled.

The Nordic Princess is also known throughout the galaxies as the top female wrestler of all time. She has matched her physique against the best, and has always come out on top. This intergalactic match-up between herself and the erotic Charazad, however, was billed as her toughest match to date.

From the very first moment, Charazad began taunting the Nordic Princess by flexing her sinuous muscles and swirling her fragrant hair in a slow circular motion as if inviting the Nordic Princess to try and pull it out of her skull. She purred and pranced as if impatient for the match to begin.

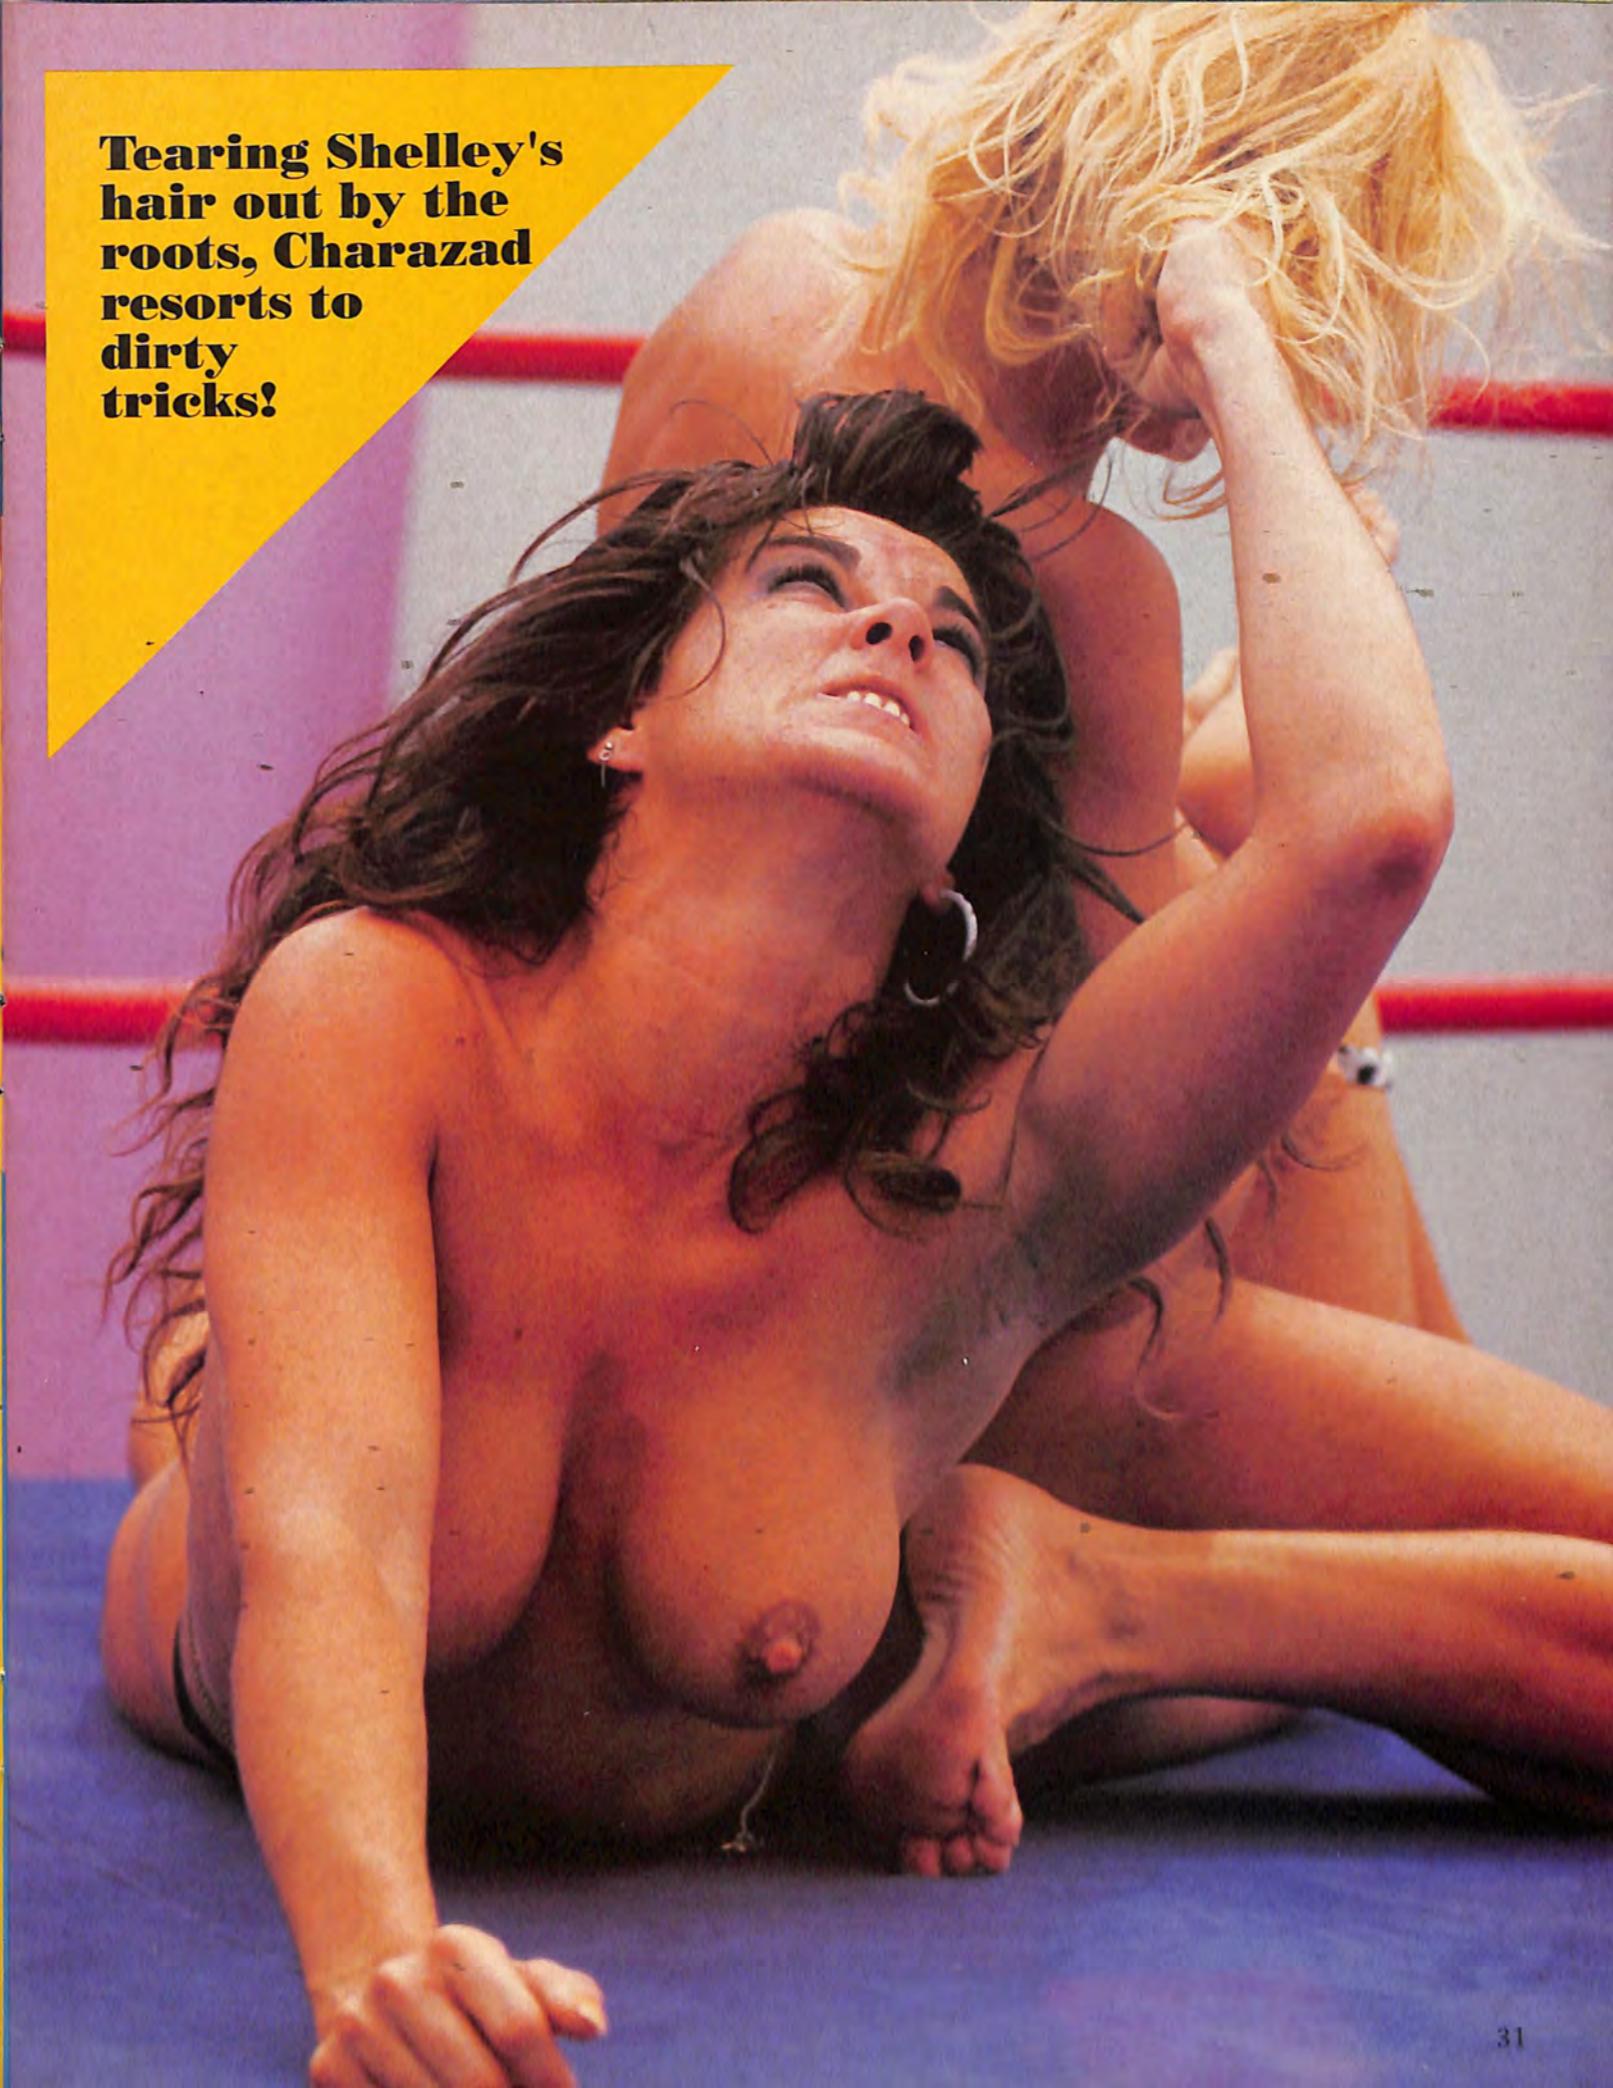

On the other hand, the Nordic Princess remained stoically calm. She had come to do battle and she ignored Charazad's antics. She had come to finish the wench off and she refused to break her concentration.

From the opening bell, the Nordic Princess attacked, leaping onto the top of the ring ropes and then flying through the air catching Charazad full in the chest with painted toes. The impact knocked Charazad across the ring and through the ropes

As Charazad was climbing back through the ropes, the Nordic Princess grabbed her by the hair and threw her back across the ring. Charazad hit the ropes and stumbled back into a flying scissors kick from the Nordic Princess. Charazad flipped backward and the Nordic Princess pounced on her like a cat on a mouse. A wave of fear crossed Charazad's eyes as the Nordic Princess ripped the top of her bikini from her breasts. Charazad was in deep trouble and she knew she had to do something quickly.

Tearing Shelley's hair out by the roots, Charazad resorts to dirty tricks!

Charazad reached down to the depths of her powers and called upon the force. Immediately, the Nordic Princess was aware of a new power within the body of Charazad. Suddenly, the Nordic Princess lost her grip on Charazad's left breast. Charazad thrust upward with her left knee catching the Nordic Princess in the crotch, and she fell to the side allowing Charazad to make her escape.

Charazad knew that what she needed was a little time to regain her strength, but the enraged Nordic Princess would have none of that.

With fire in her eyes, the Nordic Princess charged the tired Charazad grabbed her and lifted her high above her head then brought Charazad down across her knee wracking her body and rippling every muscle from the tip of her toes to the top of her head.

The crowd roared and began to chant in unison, "Nooorrr-dic! Nooorrr-dic! Soon, everyone was in a trance. And Charazad could feel the humiliation! She cried out in desperation, calling on her last reserve of energy. With one last mighty effort she hit the Nordic Princess square in the face with her breasts and at the same time wrapped her left leg around the Princess' right leg and leaned hard into her.

This set in motion a series of tumbles. The girls rolled and kicked and scratched at one another. They pulled and yanked at each others' remaining clothing. The referee could not get them apart.

Bruised and badly battered, Charazad was taking the worst beating in her life.

Charazad

At last, Charazad was forced to submit! The Nordic Princess, stronger and more ring-wise finally dominated poor Charazad. As a last humiliation, the Nordic Princess ripped off Charazad's panties and threw them into the crowd in triumph.

Las Vegas BLOW-OUT!

EDITORS NOTE: As this magazine goes to press, the "Jewel of the Nile", Julie Winchester will have become the first member of the Double Trouble wrestling organization to be selected as an honored member and participant in the "Girls of Rock & Roll Hall of Fame" at the Maxim Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada. Proving once again that these gorgeous female wrestlers are among the best looking and most talented girls in the world.

Some girls seem to get into wrestling to escape the hum-drum routines of daily life. Or they find the challenge of competition overwhelming. Wrestling also requires that the girls be in top condition and form.

And so it is with Julie Winchester and Christine

The Jewel of the Nile struggles against Peaches Tenay's
stranglehold!

Duprey, both girls enjoy the physical contact and excitement they bring to every crowd of their enthusiastic onlookers. Their fans range from curiosity seekers to genuine wrestling die-hards. No matter who their fans are though, these girls really appreciate their enthusiasm, support and fan mail.

Julie and Christine are rated among the top female wrestlers today...anywhere in the world. And they are as different in their approach to the sport as cold night is to a hot day.

Although millions of fans have watched female wrestling over the past few years, few magazines and even fewer books have been written about the girls themselves. Their personalities, dreams and ambitions are usually never even discussed. Female wrestling is a "visual" sport, better suited to TV coverage of live performances. And somehow the girls themselves get left out, or play second fiddle to the action.

Well, now Gina Molino has given us the opportunity of getting an up-close and personal look at some of her glamorous stars.

Julie, whose stage name is the "Jewel of the Nile", is a cute little thing whose lightning quick moves and determination keep her fans begging for more. Julie grew up in Texas around the Ft Worth area, and klike all kids in the late sixties got off on Rock & Roll. But Julie's interest took her a bit farther. All the way to Hollywood and the Sunset Strip. Her dream was to become a singer...a Rock & Roll Star. But, the breaks didn't come her way, and hard work waiting tables in the rougher sections of Los Angeles opened her eyes to the real world. If she was going to make it, she would just have to take whatever came along.

Some people claim Stars are made, not born. Well, Julie's dream of singing is paying off now, and she now appreciates her own stick-to-itiveness.

Julie always liked to workout and keep in good shape. During one of her workouts she was spotted by a friend of Gina Molino. After telling Gina about her, Gin called her and asked if she would be interested at all to try and wrestle professionally. Julie, at first was a little frightened, but Gina assured her that with a little work and then a lot of dedication, she thought Julie might become a top female wrestler. And afterall, Julie could meet a lot of show-biz types. Gina finally convinced Julie to give it a try. And whad-a-ya know, Julie took to wrestling like a duck to water. She was a natural and so began her career with Double Trouble, and she's never looked back. And yes, all her dreams are coming true.

Her love for Rock & Roll and hard work have given her the opportunity to perform regularly in Las Vegas and the Los Angeles area. She's also actively involved in an acting career, and her ballet lessons are paying great dividends. She's a real song and dance kind of girl with a lot of vigor.

Her dream guy? Well, he'll have long hair, love all kinds of sports, be in great shape, and most importantly, he'll really get off on Rock & Roll.

Julie hopes that her career in wrestling will open the doors to a film contract with a major independent studio. Let's hope so. But if one thing's for sure, what-ever she does in the future, she'll do it with her own kind of gusto and determination.

Another of Gina's hopeful Double Trouble girls is a beauty by the name of Christine Duprey or "Peaches Tenay". Christine is five-foot five-inches tall. She's got the deepest brown eyes you'll ever want to look into, and her silky brown hair falls well below her soft shoulders. She is blessed with one of the most beautiful faces in all of sports today. And this has led to a lot of problems with the other girls. Attention is often paid to Tenay at the expense of the other girls. She says she's tried to tell all the sports writers and photo-graphers to give equal cover-age to the other girls, but they just laugh, and do what they want to anyway.

the Crusher!

Julie slams Tenay into the ropes!

NO HOLDS BARRED!

Tenay is thrown back toward her corner as Julie slides between her legs!

Christine was born in in a small, middle-class suburb outside of Toledo, Ohio. At the age of five, the "Beatles" had taken over the airways, and Christine loved to mimick their songs for friends and relatives. At 11 years old she decided that show business was for her, and she set sights on becomming an actress/singer.

Christy is a no-nonsense kind of girl. She says she dates a guy who doesn't mess around with a lot of enuendos, but gets right down to the point. She likes a guy with both feet on the ground. She hates liars and cheats. But loves warm furry things.

Christy most of her spare time ...every spare moment she can get from a hectic schedule...taking acting les-sons from one of Hollywood's top acting coaches. She says that wrestling has given her the opportunity to show-off onstage in the ring and to perform before a live audi-ence. "Sure", she says, "it's not like acting off Broadway, but it's a lot harder. I mean, you not only have to give a great performance every time and remember your lines, but you have to take a lot of physical abuse too. A lot of these other girls think I'm too sweet and mild man-nered to be a top wrestler. I just tell them that everyone thought Clark Kent was just a mild-mannered reporter. I may not be Supergirl either, but that doesn't mean I haven't got what it takes to get to the top."

Wrestling has given Christine the drive to stay in shape and study and wait on the one big offer that she is sure to come. In the mean-time, she remains in the top ten female wrestlers in the world. "The more opportunities you get to perform", she says, " the more likely it is that you'll be noticed. And, too, there's no sub-stitute for experience! You've got to be as well-prepared as you can be. When opportunity comes knocking at your door, if you're lucky, you'll get only one chance to prove yourself. I don't intend to be caught off-guard when my chance comes."

Christine also enjoys motorcycling through the California hills and the Julie claims that Tenay's use of "External Devices" is evil!

Arizona highways. I especially like riding up the coast with my arms wrapped a-round a special guy and watching the world go by. There's a little Greek restaurant just south of Big Sur that's just right for a weekend off!"

Miss Duprey is also a very fine horseback rider, and is one of the few girls around today that can fire a .357 Magnum from the back of a horse and hit what she aims at. Her greatest love though is dancing. Ever since she could walk, she has taken dancing lessons. AND HER HARD WORK HAS PAID OFF. And, she says, that a lot of credit for her wrestling prowess is directly attributable to her dance work. Dance keeps me in top form and condition.

So, now that you've been properly introduced, it's time to get down to business.

Extreme Malice!

In desperation, Tenay uses the ring ropes to choke Julie!

OUT OF CONTROL!

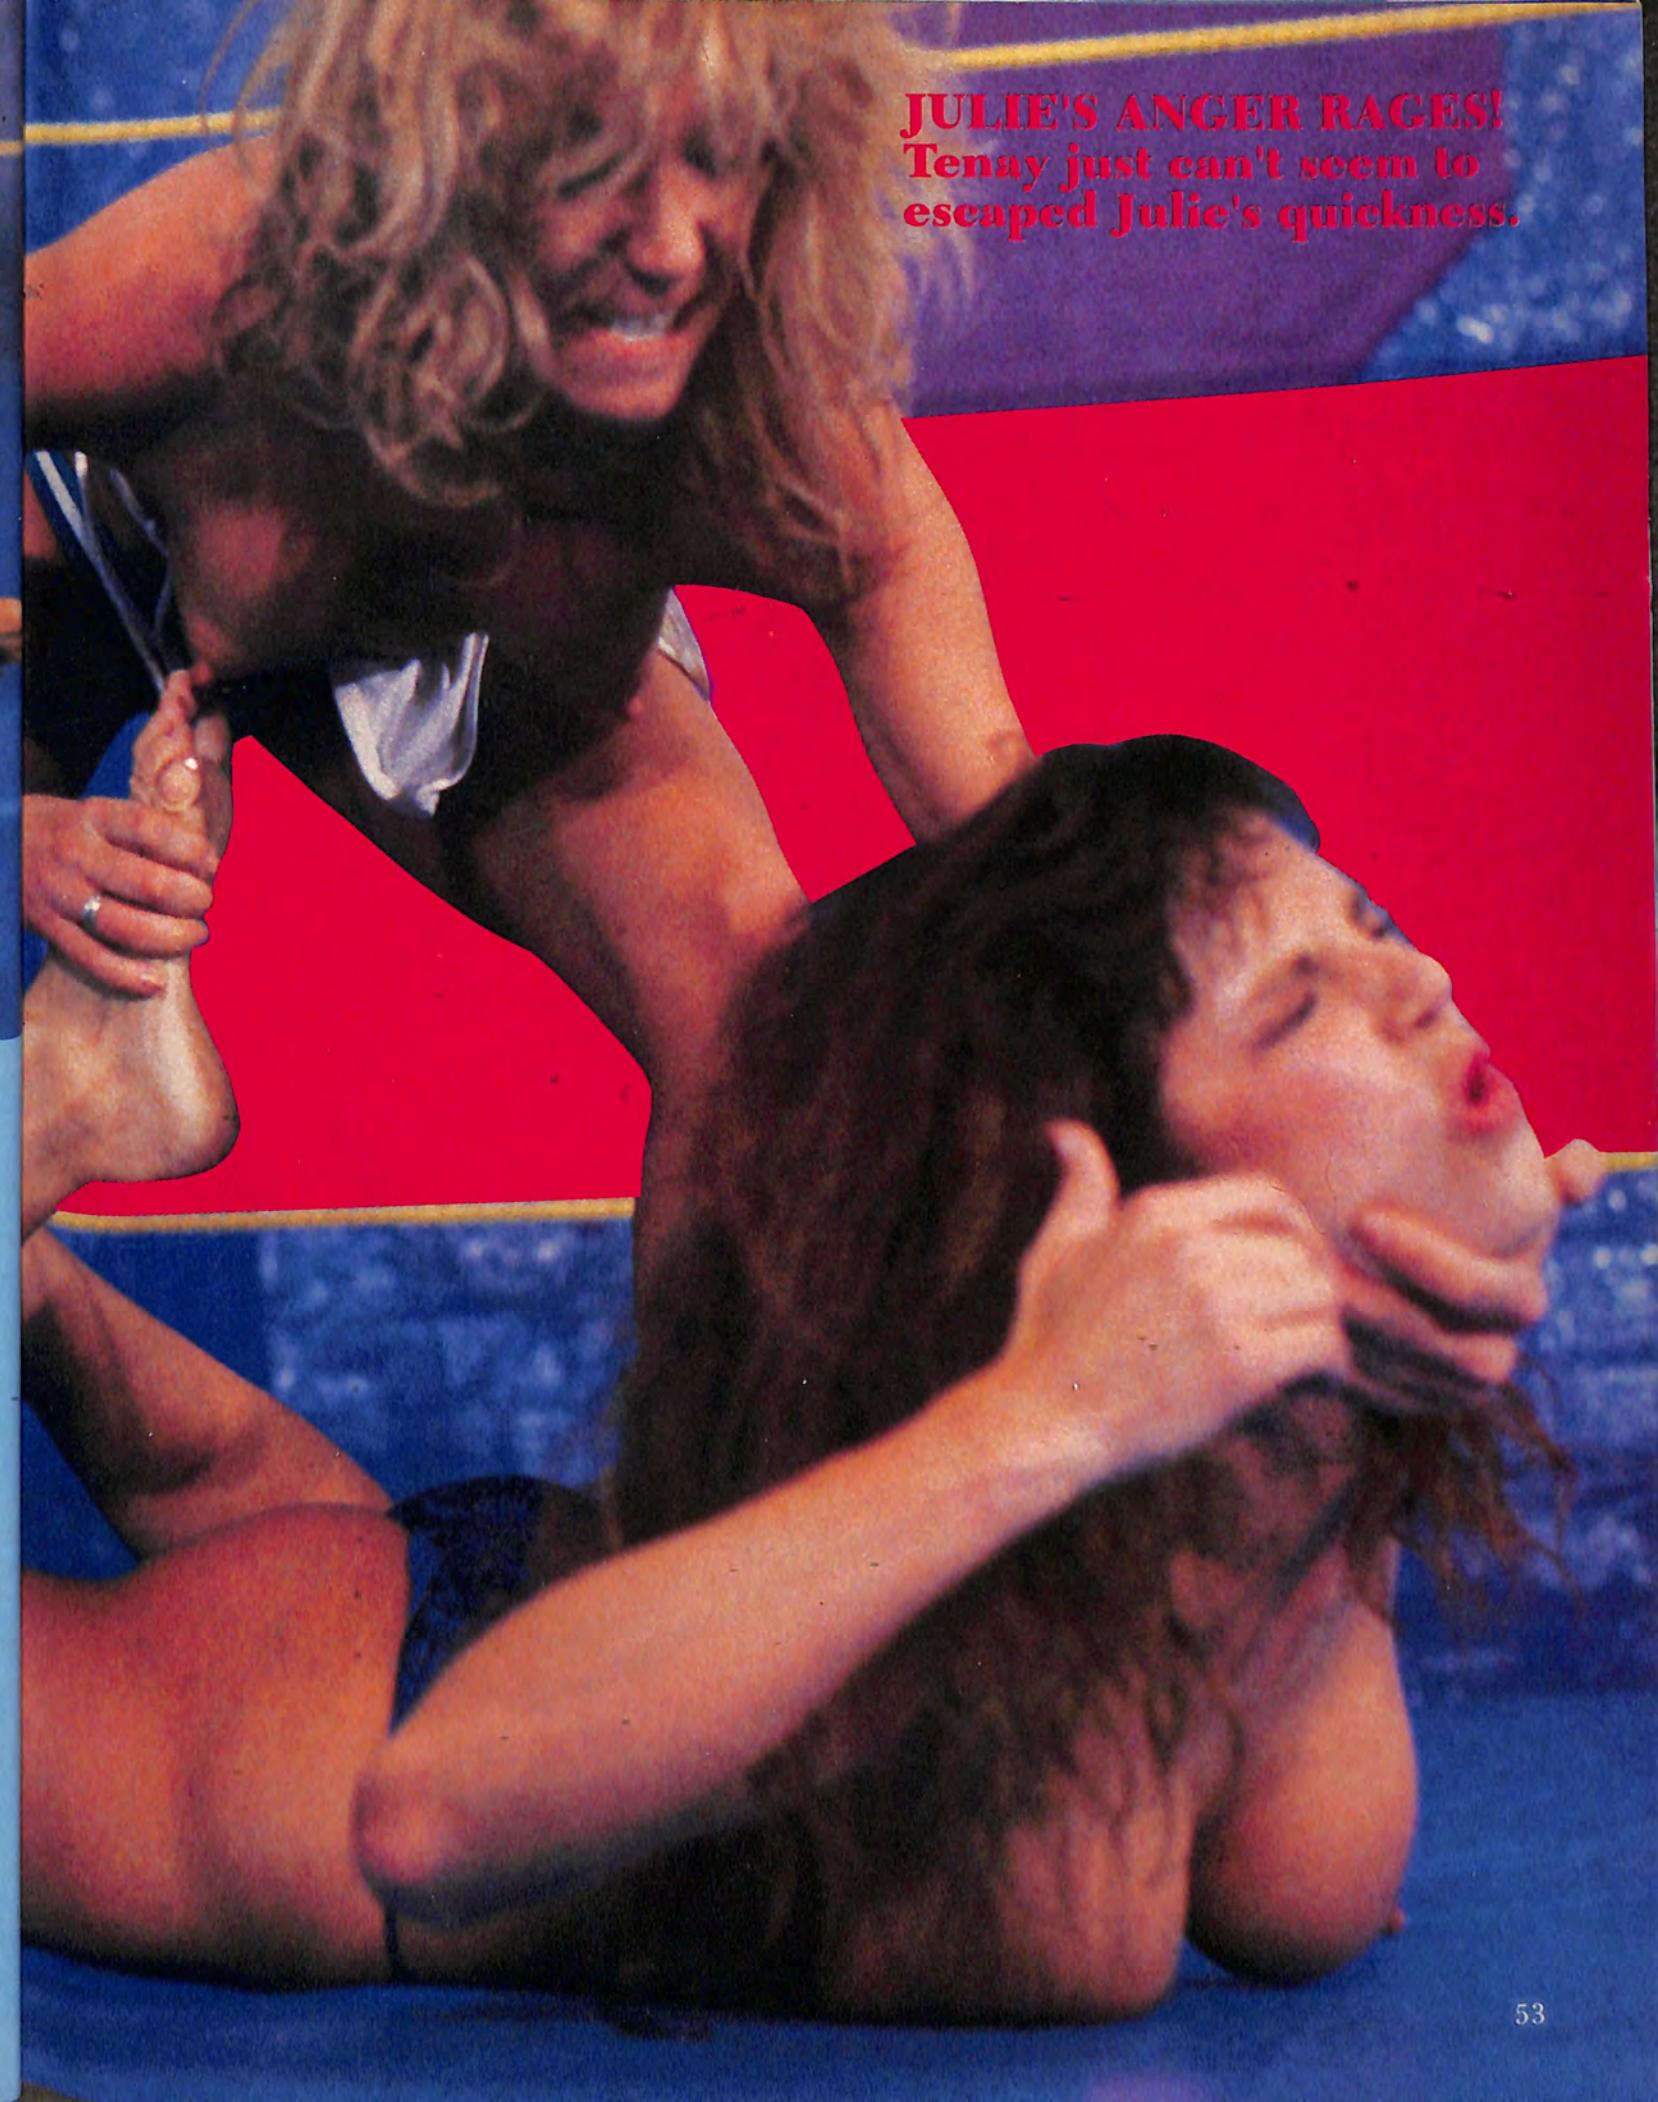

Julie is stretched to the limits!

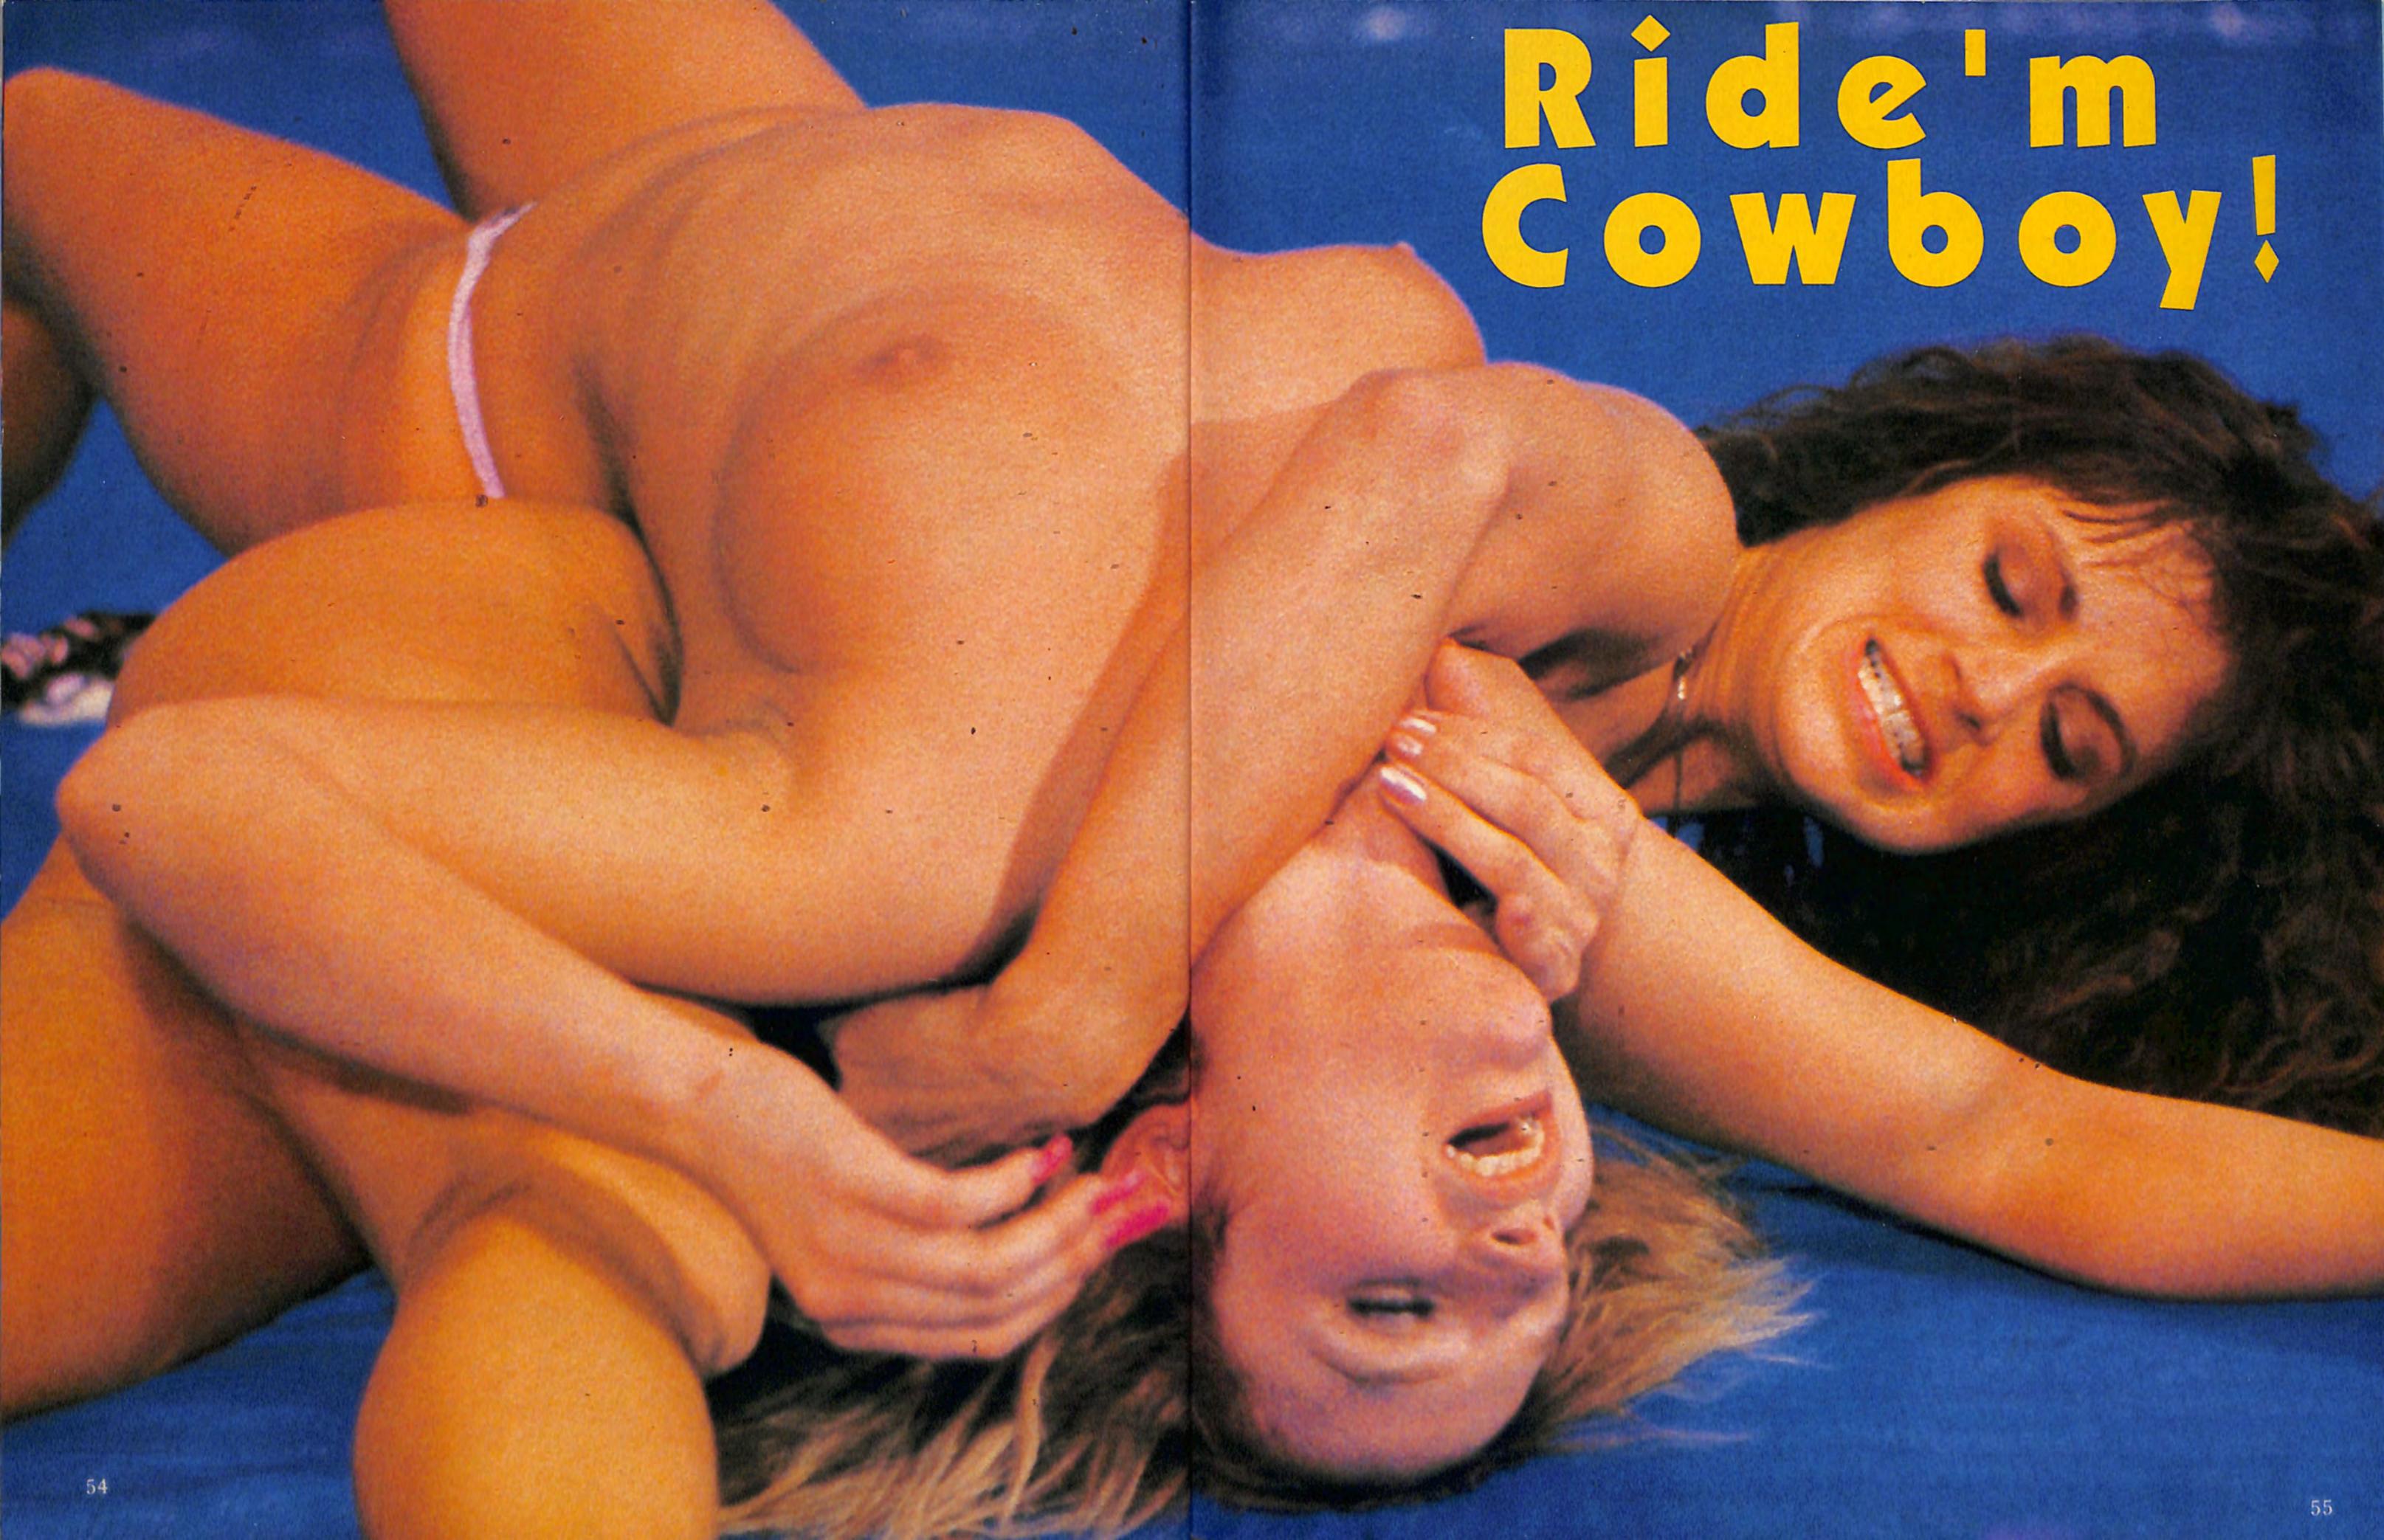

"Peaches and Creme," that's how it was billed on the marquee outside Las Vegas' biggest Hotel. Double Trouble's "Peaches" Tenay, Christine Duprey would put her body on the line and go up against the wiley veteran, "The Jewel of the Nile", Julie Winchester (Creme). No one could have guessed that this was to become of the most hard-fought, nasty, dog-eat-dog, bitterly-contested matches in female wrestling history.

It is no secret in the wrestling world that there is no love lost between Julie and Christine. They are both ambitious and take their work seriously.

JULIE'S ANGER RAGES!
Tenay just can't seem to escape Julie's quickness.

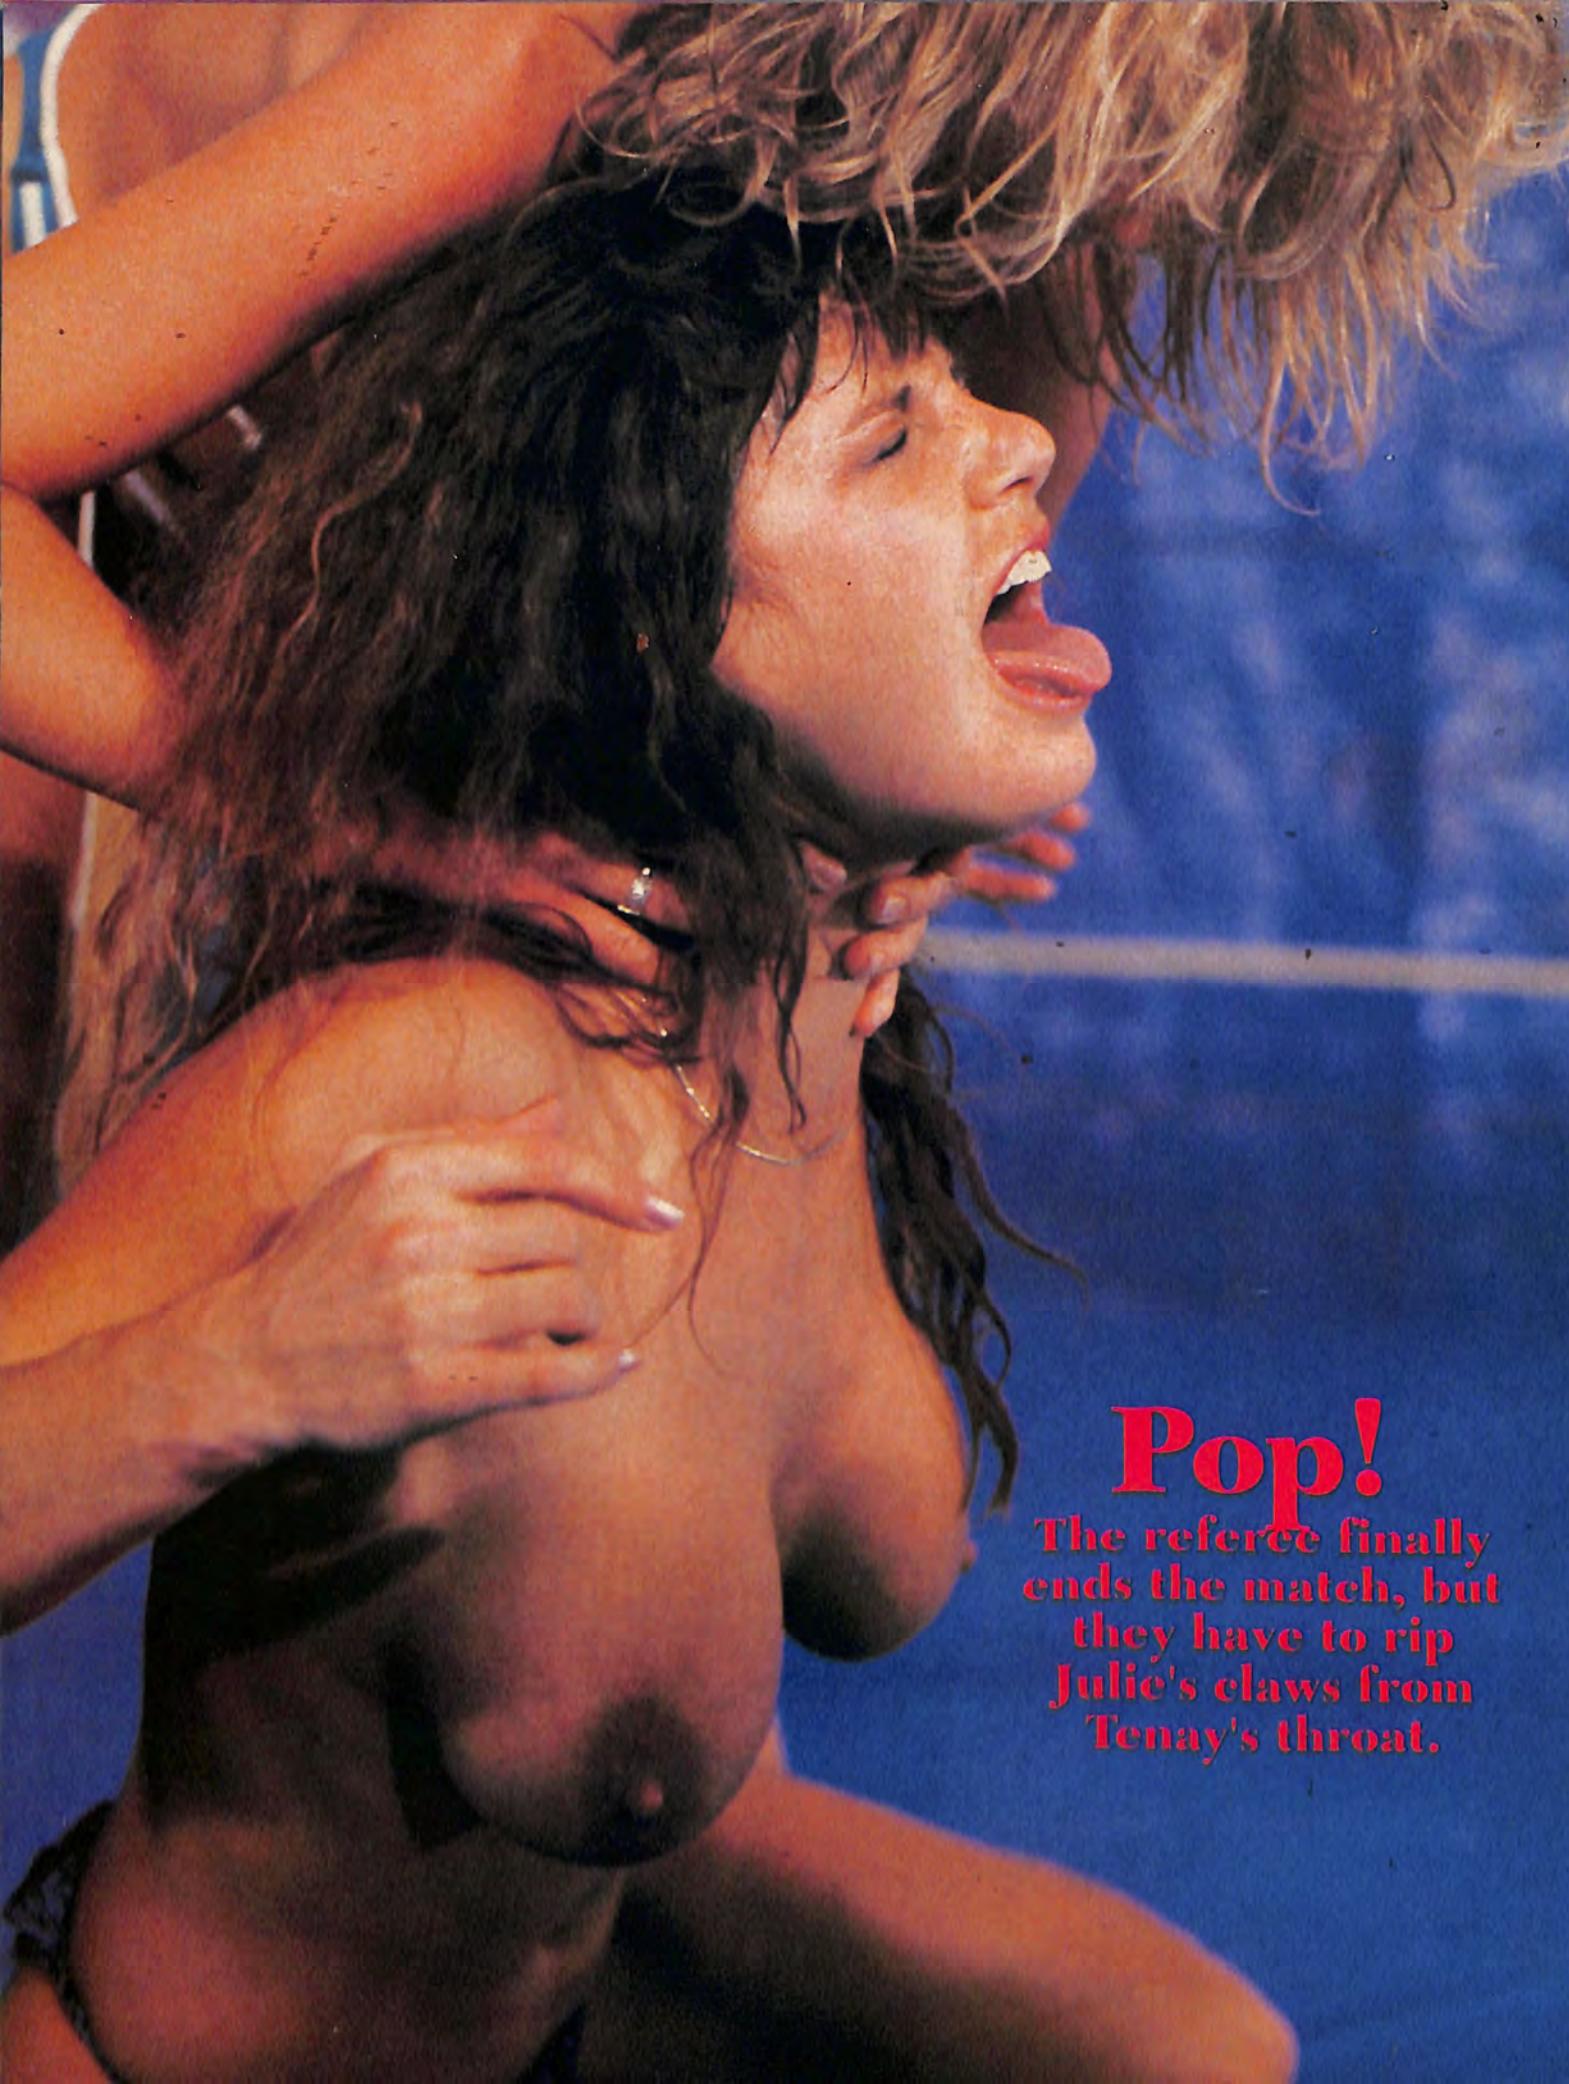

Ride 'm
Cowboy!

Snap!

Julie's leg lock closes like a vise and Tenay is helpless!

Pop!

The referee finally ends the match, but they have to rip Julie's claws from Tenay's throat.

"I've taken all I can take from the Julie's Hulkamania attitude", Tenay said. "I'm a pro, and pros don't go crying to the federation just because they get a little roughed up during a match. This is a contact sport. I've sharpened my claws and I'm ready for Julie. Let the best girl win."

Julie, on the other hand, had fire in her eyes when she talked to me just before the match. "That little brats' ass is on the line. She knows that our previous match was a fluke. I going to tie her hair in knots and shove her panties down her throat! You wait and see. Everyone will see the kind of slut that Tenay really is. She'll do anything and stop at nothing to have it all her own way. Well, I for one ain't gunna let get away with it!"

So, with revenge in their hearts, the two girls prepared for the fight of the century. The buxom and sensuous Christine Duprey versus the wildcat, Julie Winchester. No holds barred, winner take all.

Gina Molino, the girls manager, told me just before the match that bo girls were probably a little nuts. They have made the match a grudge fight. And if you've ever seen a couple of hell-cats boil over, you know what's going to happen. "I don't feel like I should have to take the responsibility", said Gina, "and I've asked the federation to take out extra insurance against the possible damage the two girls might do. I tried to calm the girls down, but I think I only made matters worse. Now, Tenay thinks I'm on the commissioners side and Julie thinks I'm pampering Tenay. I just don't know what to do. And frankly, I'm a little frightened."

"If I were betting on the fight", said Gina, "I would go with Julie simply because I've seen her when she gets her dander up. Besides that, she's got the experience. I seen her get down and dirty a couple of times before, and it wasn't a pretty sight. She usually dishes out more than she takes. She's tough, and she knowsthat if she has a good showing against Tenay we could set up a champ-ionship match with the Nordic Princess, and that's what she really wants."

Tenay's no slouch when it comes to threats either. She screamed at the top of her voice, "I'm gonna take little miss petty-coats and tie her G-string around her neck and pull the cord on her!", as she was walking down the isle just prior to the match. "You'll wished you'd stayed in the kitchen where you belong when I'm done with you."

So it began, and the action never let up for one moment. Both Julie and Tenay gave all they could, and both girls were exhausted by the end of the fight. The referee was even taken to a first aid room for treatment. At end, after taking it to the limits of physical endurance, the Jewel of the Nile emerged victorious. Julie Winchester's quickness and cunning finally won the day. She caught a tired Tenay in a combination "Carson toe-lock/McMann leg-over thigh-pin", and it was all over.

Both girls bared it all. Both girls gave their all. Both girls exemplify the best in female wrestling today. Julie has promised Tenay a return match early next year and negotiations have already begun. It'll be a sure ring-side sell-out. So, you better get your reservations in early!

The Fur Flies!

DOUBLE TROUBLE NO.1 AGAIN! BACK ON TOP! ❤

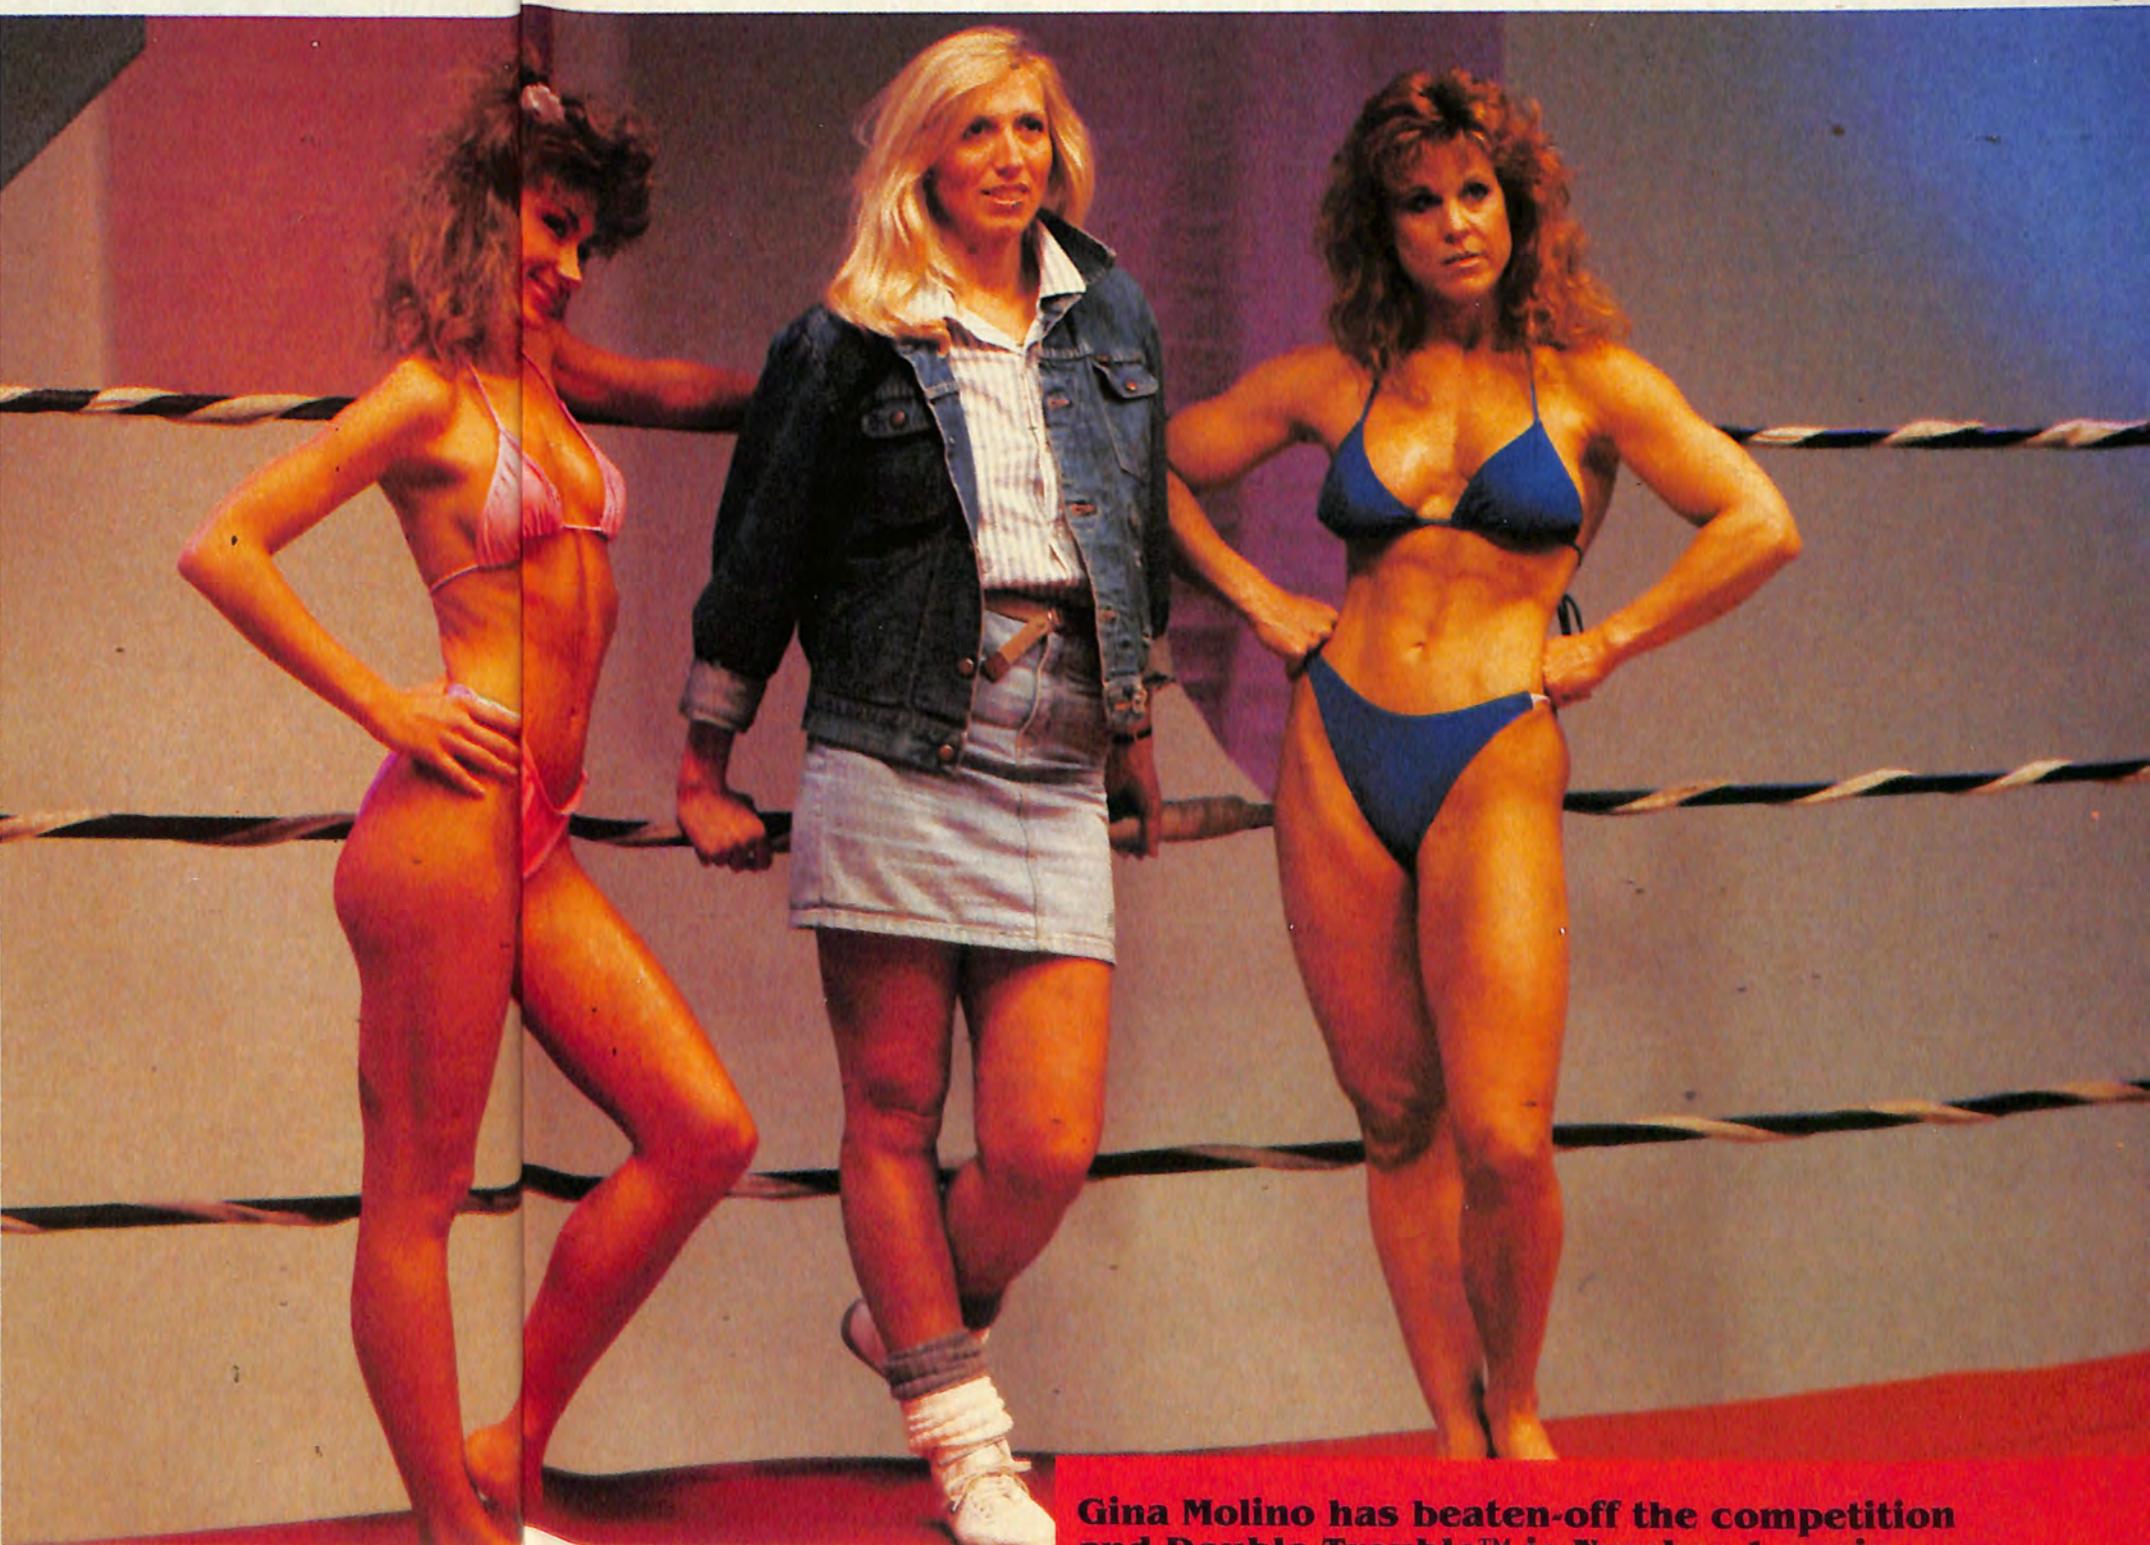

Despite the recent stories linking female wrestling with organized crime, fan attendance is soaring! The reason is obvious to everyone who loves wrestling. No where can you find this kind of action in the world. Beautiful young girls pitted one against the other in a duel that literally exposes their unbided anger at the world. Yes, these girls are the best at what they do, and some wrestling fans think they do it better than those potbellied put ons we've come to expect from the (WF).

And despite recent stories to the contrary, petite Gina Molino has successfully retained her ownership of the most successful all-female wrestling group in the sport today. With all the savvy of a Wall Street broker she has beat off the competition with the genuine article. Really, lady wrestlers who are just about as sexy as any Holly-wood movie star, and all are a lot more vivacious.

Are Gina's girls happy? You bet they are! Everything seems to be going right for the Double Trouble organization, including videos and interviews with leading magazines who have also caught the FEVER. And boy is it getting HOT!

Many of the girls have had to go under-ground and wear disguises to attain any privacy. And Gina is at the forefront in protecting these valuable girls. Like Shelley said in a recent interview with Intimate Body Glamore Wrestling, "We've been out there sweating our butts off trying to get this thing off the ground and at last its paying off. I'm thrill-ed. It hasn't been easy. We've been under a great deal of pressure from outside interests, but Gina's a real tiger. She's held her own against them, and she's protected us. When we started, the greatest fear we had was that some big organization would hire us and then use us. That kind of exploitation has happened in the past. But Gina's kept us together through thick and thin. We're more like a real close family. Sure, we get into arguments just like a real family, but underneath it all, we really love one another an awful lot."

Gina Molino has beaten-off the competition and Double Trouble™ is Number 1 again.

All of the female wrestlers enjoy the physical contact and stay in top condition.

Double Trouble claims to have the best looking, most glamorous ladies in wrestling today. Most fans agree with that, but other wrestling groups have challenged that claim. As Gina told me, "our girls are the best-no question about that. And I don't mean just superficially either. These girls are beautiful down deep where it counts. They're not in the business for the short haul either. These girls have suffered and sweated to learn all the moves...they can even show the boys a couple of new moves. But that's not all. They're hard training and arduous ring experiences have given them the edge on all the other female wrestling groups. The other groups are just no match for these girls. And we'll prove it!"

As soon as all the contracts have been signed, a proposed, Playgirls (POW) Of Wrestling World Event will take place in Las Vegas, Nevada next year. Female wrestlers from all over the world are joining together and getting their acts together to put on what some sports journalists have called the Sports Event of the 90s. Double Trouble, as one of the organizers of the event will of course be on top with their top-rated wrestlers.

Topless, bottomless, all nude. Who knows what will happen. When the competition starts, anything goes. And everything usually does! The good guy/bad guy routines of the (WF) wrestlers doesn't work when it comes to female wrestling. There is no right or wrong...only the fittest survive. And ALL of the girls who compete in female wrestling are in top form. These girls are built to take on anycomer. Their finely-tuned bodies burst with energy. Their hair gleams in the ring lights, and their eyes flicker with delight and the expectation of physical contact. Their manicured nails flicker against their pale smooth skin impatient for the match to begin. Their breathing quickens and their firm breasts surge. Their tight little bellies move in and out to the rhythm of their beating hearts. Their excitement is transferred to the audience, and the moment becomes electric with the scents of their bodies. This is the best in Female Wrestling today! The sensuous excitement, the challenge, the competition, the fans!

In the past, Double Trouble's only real competition for leadership in female wrestling came from the (GLOW) Glamorous Ladies of Wrestling who got a lot of attention due to the fact that Sylvester Stallone's mother was one of their organizers. They even appeared on the national network TV. But the so-called, GLOW GIRLS didn't get their act together when it came to the hardcore desires of wrestling fans. "Pretty", some said, "but they really can't wrassle. They're good-intentioned young ladies who probably need the money pretty bad, or just want to be in the limelight, but who seem to be getting their pretty little butts bruised while someone else gets all the glory...and the money!"

The Nordic Princess reigns supreme on all counts!

"Poor things", says Gina, they should have been told how tough this business can be. As long as I'm around, my girls will be protected from exploitation. My girls won't be used or abused!"

So, just what's in the store for Gina's girls in 1990? After the POW World event in Las Vegas, Gina plans to take her girls on a world tour. She going to take up the challenge of some european promoters and wrestling organizations and show them just what her All-American POW Girls can do. Double Trouble is also negotiating with a top Hollywood movie studio and toy manufacturer to produce a new movie and dolls; and possibly involving maybe Jane Fonda and Racquel Welch as the "Mad Bomber", Judy Hendricks and "Sweet Cakes" Rosy Maloney, respectively. "This is an enormous project", Gina said, "and many of the girls are looking forward to the challenge. All that seems to be required now is to fit it all into our hectic schedule."

But, Gina has had to turn down a lot of offers from outside promoters in the past because she insists and demands protection for her girls. "The main thing is exploitation", she says. "I don't want my girls taken advantage of. They can hold their own in the ring against anyone, but the business end is very complicated. We have to move very cautiously until the right moment comes."

"Back in 1984, the greatest TV audience in wrestling history watched a cable broadcast of a match between the Fabulous Moolah and Wendi Richter. That's a heck-of-a tribute to the sport of female wrestling. And it's been gaining momentum ever since. The problem is, our girls fight a 'no holds barred' kind of match. Any-thing and everything goes! When the girls start tugging and pulling and bumping each other, the expose themselves. Especially their bosoms. The boys are barechested when they start a match, the girls often end up that way. There's simply no way to avoid it. There's really no difference except in the minds of a few old maids who probably never worked out in a gym or tried to condition themselves for competition. They simply will never like wrestling, whether it's 300 - 500 pound men diving off the ropes at one another or 120 pound women doing the same thing. We can't play to that kind of an audience. And don't. We have a very large fan club all over America who love the sport of wrestling and in particular, female wrestling. It is entertainment, but no one will deny that the girls have to be in top physical condition to compete."

"We've been called 'Hell-Cats' and 'She-Devils', says Shelley, "but its all just part of the fun." I'm not too sure about that, though. Some of these girls do seem to be on the wild side. But one thing all these girls have is class. They are professionals who know the ropes, and each of these babes wants to be recognized by the fans as being the best.

These girls have for tricks the a card shark and more venom than a viper. They practice basic routines to-gether, but once a match starts, WATCH OUT!

Of Double Trouble's bevies of beautiful babes, perhaps the most influential and experienced is Shelley Fabre, the "Nordic Princess." She's been performing for over nine years, and the other "old-timers" and new comers look to her for leadership. You can often find her coaching the other girls and helping them understand and perfect new techniques. Still, Shelley is a fighter, and a good one at that, perhaps the best in female wrestling today. But her unselfishness as far as helping the other girls is concerned goes unrewarded when she enters the ring, and she often complains about the lack of respect the girls show her during a match.

"There's something about a real match that brings out the secret side in some of these girls, or perhaps its the pressure, I don't really know. It's all I can do sometimes to figure out how to stay on top. All the girls I've wrestled in the past year are getting better and better...and a lot more trickier! I've worked long and hard to get to the top, though, and I'm not going to let a few spoiled brats toppled me. I plan to be a-round for a long time to come yet, and it'll really take someone special to take me down!"

Well, maybe the Nordic Princess doesn't get the kind of respect she thinks she deserves, but I know I'd think twice about going up against her. For one thing, she's a finely-tuned instrument of total destruction with large firm breasts that in themselves could dominate a man (or woman). She is quite beautiful which is also devastating. And these two factors probably exemplify this new breed of female wrestler. There are very few girls in the sport today that could not pose for a Playboy center-fold. And many of the girls are hopeful Starlets who put out 100% for the chance of getting noticed by a casting director or top Hollywood agent. This adds a real sense of excitement for the fans. They know these girls are giving their all. And when a girl triumphs in the ring, the fans fell satisfied and fully rewarded.

Of the "new breed" of genuine female wrestlers, another standout is Julie Winchester, the "Jewel of the Nile." Her devotion to the sport and determination to be the best she can be has electrified wrestling fans. "She really gets the juices flowing", said one sports caster recently. Julie's greatest attribute, other than her gorgeously built body, is her quickness. There are very few girls who can match her lightning quick moves and awesome determination.

A brown-haired beauty, Christine Duprey, "Peaches Tenay" is relatively new to the sport, but she's already gained a loyal following. "I've taken some pretty good beatings in the last year", she said, "and now I'm gonna dish out to the other girls what I've been taking. 1990 is going to be my year to shine. I feel good, and I'm in the best shape of my life!" And what a shape it is too. Tenay can be described as a hazel-eyed Marilyn Monroe with that built-in sex appeal that drives men wild, and makes other women jealous. Her ambitious behavior in the ring exemplifies her outlook on life, "get it while you can and don't look back, some-one or something might be gaining on you."

The other girls of Double Trouble will be featured in up-coming issues of Intimate Body Glamore Wrestling. And if this is your first venture into the Wonderful World of Intimate Body Wrestling, enjoy!
